[In the season of Christmas and as we enter the New Year 2025, Pastor Mitchell yields his usual pastor article to share important excerpts from the Pastoral Letter by our National and Conference Leadership of the United Church of Christ]

"Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled, and do not let them be afraid." John 14:27

Dear beloved United Church of Christ community,
 During this blessed Advent season, we enter a time of hopeful anticipation. We wait patiently for what God will newly reveal to us, and sus brought a message of love. When asked by his disciples about the greatest commandment, Jesus responded: "'You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.' This is the greatest and first commandment. And a second is like it: 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself'" (Matthew 22:37b-39). This is love which compels us to action.

Christian Unity

In the days before his death, Jesus taught the disciples and prayed for them. The motto of the United Church of Christ, "that they may all be one" (John 17:21), is a part of a prayer Jesus offered for his disciples. He prayed: "I ask not only on behalf of these but also on behalf of those who believe in me through their word" (John 17:20). This earnest prayer was for the disciples who Jesus knew, and for those who would believe in him through the disciples. Jesus prayed for the unity of his followers.

Justice

The perpetuation of injustice is challenging to the well-being of all creation. The quest for a just world for all is yet before us. Martin Luther King, Jr., reminded us that "the arc of the moral universe is long, but it bends toward justice." The church is called to participate in seeking justice in the world. While there are times when the church has been silent, the church has also followed the teachings of Jesus and has been on the side of the oppressed, advocating for justice.

The political divide poses a threat to the unity of the church. While there is value held in identifying that "unity does not mean uniformity," the political narratives of the day are quite different from those seen in the recent past.

The ministry of Jesus was one that prioritized those on the margins of society. His ministry was bold and prophetic, speaking to and against the religious norms of his day, which perpetuated injustices and oppressed "the least of these." Je-

The UCC and its predecessor bodies have a history of being on the forefront of justice: A Vision for the Future. We are a "big tent" in the UCC. This big tent is identified by the multiplicity of ways members of the UCC reflect the categories of diversity present in the United States and in the world. We are ecumenical, coming from disparate places and experiences with roots well beyond the identified streams in the UCC's history. We are representative of language, racial/ethnic, gender, theological, and political diversities, to name a few areas of our diverse landscape. We are reflective of the beloved community, one where love lives. Our commitment to live this diversity is a commitment to live into the radical love Jesus taught.

We wait in hope, believing that God is ever-present with us and will keep us through this moment, providing peace and comfort. God will also be with us in the days that are ahead, granting us strength, courage, and wisdom. We wait in hope, believing that change is possible as we seek a just world for all.

As we wait:

- We pray.
- We care for those in need.
- We advocate for change.
- We speak truth to power.

God of hope and love, you are ever-present with us. We wait patiently for you, knowing that you hear our prayers. The call to do justice is on-going. As governments come and go, we are called to bring healing and care to those in need. This is such a moment. A time when there will be the hungry to feed, the homeless to house, and the widows and orphans who will need our care. This is a time when we will continue to honor the inherent dignity and worth of each of your children. This is a time when the church will be prophetic, calling for truth and for change. Provide your church and all who lead and minister within it hope and healing for the living of these days. Amen.

A Message from our Moderator...

Lori Katayama

Fifteen years ago the Vision Committee was formed to strategize and brainstorm for the future of our church. At the planning meeting in 2010, the question posed was "What would you like to see God do in and through our ministry here at MPCC?" After months of prayer and deliberation the committee determined that their vision was for growth through:

- Nurturing spiritual development by learning about Jesus Christ,
- Providing every believer with opportunities to discover their God-given gifts and talents to better serve the church, wider community, and the world,

- Enhancing and expanding our church campus,
- Increasing our Ministry Staff so that we may nurture our youth and develop young adult, women's, eldercare, and family ministries.

Throughout the process, the vision committee was always mindful of the tenet that God is not interested in what we can do; He is interested in what He can do through us when we are willing vessels. The church theme for the year 2010 was "With God, Everything is Possible."

Here we are 15 years later and that question and that vision still holds true. Thus far we have completed the "expanding our church campus" goal by purchasing the Chavez property and creating a more contiguous space with the addition of the parking lot. Although it hasn't expanded the size of our indoor gathering spaces, it will provide better traffic flow and, more importantly, prevent an outside entity from purchasing the property.

Increasing our ministry staff was a fiscal impossibility since almost 78% of our annual budget is spent on administrative expenses already. Our current staff along with the diaconate and Christian education boards have been tasked with and have been providing ways to reach our elders, youth, and family although more support is needed.

That leaves the first two goals of the Vision Committee:

- Nurturing spiritual development by learning about Jesus Christ,
- Providing every believer with opportunities to discover their God-given gifts and talents to better serve the church, wider community and the world.

This year, I hope and pray that MPCC will put more effort into realizing these goals. As your moderator, I hope to continue working with the church board and committee members to find new ways to not only provide more opportunities to learn and serve but also new ways to bring in people from outside our walls. I pray you will join me in these efforts and I encourage everyone to attend the annual planning meeting on Saturday, January 4 at 9am.

Save Used Stamps Update*"Thank You"

A medium size Priority box is almost filled! Hopefully after the holidays more will come in to fill the box. Thank you to all who have been diligently collecting "used" stamps, I greatly appreciate your time and effort.

After Japan receives the stamps, it is sold to collectors. With that money, aides are sent to countries in need.

Our goal at MPCC is to help the church, community, and other nations collectively with other UCC churches collecting "used stamps", we can make a difference! - Evelyn Yoshimi
